

on the highway everything is good. no private distractions like on the street where you're known and nothing's new. remember when DQ got razed for Walmart everyone just figured they'd have more stuff to buy and we got left the stoop at first good enough. for pigeons but where else could we congregate this holy hell (of a town) fu ckers

maybe. we'll come back if there's a reunion see how the street we just have to keep our world outside of here we will be tinderbox soldiers did everyone bring enough bottled water
